Figs were very abundant here twenty years ago. Of late years till the present they have not often been offered for sale. We are glad to see them again, as rich and delicious as formerly.

127 Mrs. Lucy Thurston met with a severe fall a few days since, which it was feared might prove a permanent injury. We are glad to learn that she is recovering from its effects. Our last page will be found interesting this week. Among other articles, a description of Lady Coutt's bank, a statement showing one bundred sected with England, &c., &c.

SPOKEN.-The U. S. ship Portsmouth was spoken by the schooner Fanny, three or four days before port. She would visit Kawailine the last week in July to obtain fresh vegetables and stock, and arrive here about the time the mail steamer from San Francisco is expected.

POLITICAL MERTING. - The natives residing at Wailuku, Maul, held a public mass meeting on Monday of last week to discuss the proposed reciprocity treaty in connection with Pearl River. The majority of the speakers favored the measure, but no resoas were passed, and the meeting adjourned till

REAL ESTATE SALE -We understand that C. C. Harris, Esq., last week sold his residence in Nuuanu Valley to Capt. Thomas H. Hobron, of Makawao and we have shown the list send. Being a good carrier and | for $7,200 cash, the premises not deliverable till the end of one year from the date of sale. This would make its cost about $5,000. The dwelling is large and commodious and the grounds around it comprise several acres of land.

> THE CULP PROCESS .- The San Jose Mercury, no ticing the premium of $1,000 offered by the Hawaiian Government for the introduction of the invention into these Islands, wonders "if it is our Culp process." We can answer that it is nothing else than the Gilroy process, patented by Mr. Cuip. A hundred seres of tobacco can be grown here at short tice, whenever wanted to give it a fair trial. Actual experiment is the only way to test its value here.

> THEATRICAL -The performance at the Royal Hawalian Theatre on Saturday night last, passed off extremely well. Maggie Knight was of course good, as she always is. Mr. Clemens was received with great applause, and gave perfect satisfaction, and the two Hawaiians of the Band-Kamakaia and Kalus-were well worth hearing. Mr. Berger must have felt proud of them as his pupils. It is to be hoped that the Theatre will be as well filled pext

> 23" A gentleman informs us that while on a visit to Waikiki, last Saturday, he observed a buge shark swimming leisurely near the shore, where people bathe. We were not aware that sharks ever came inside the reef at Walkiki. On being alarmed and chused by the natives, he showed himself at a loss which way to go, heading out toward the reef till he came to shoal water, then returning inland and then in another. Before the natives could launch and man their cannes, the ugly visitor disappeared through some opening in the real into the deep sea.

New Sugar Plantation.-The steamer, on he last trip to windward, landed at Molokal screnty head of bullock, belonging to Mr. J. McColgan, who proposes to start a sugar plantation on land which he has lately leased from the administrators of the late King's estate. The tract, which is located between Kannakskai and Kalusaha, comprises about four thousand seres, stretching from the sea to the mountains, and is known as Kamaloo. Of this about one hundred and fifty acres are low land, and believed to be adapted to cane growing. The cane will be cultivated by a farmer who has already gone to work. The mill is the same as that used on Mr. McColgan's Ewa plantation, and will be set up in time to take off the crop, which will be ground on shares. This system divides the risk and the profit between the planter and manufacturer.

CARICATURES - On Saturday last a somewhat cisborate representation, intended as a caricature, appeared on the window at the office of the Nuhou, relating to Pearl river and its cession. There was no point to it, and it passed for a very silly attempt to provoke laughter. On Sunday another appeared on Merchant street, representing the editor of the Nakou as the "Ishmaelite Shepherd of Lanal," with his crook, and followed by his flock, bleating out "annexation," "annexation." Still a third appeared on Monday un Fort street, one picture in it representing a locky mounted on a lion bound for the Legislative hall, and calling for "the good old times," when rum was three dollars a gallon, the bottles being marked "G. R.," probably "good rum." Another represented a fox, marked "Nulson," looking up most wishfully at a bruch of grapes hanging from the window of the Foreign Office. This last appears to have been the one which caused the most laughter among the crowd of spectators, and evidently hit the nail on the head.

East Main Female Seminary .- On July 10th the friends of the school assembled at Makawao in large numbers to witness the examination of the punils The school contains fifty-six pupils, most of whom have learned all they knew of the English language in this institution. Some have been in it only a few oths, and none more than two years, yet the varied and extensive knowledge shown by their ready and accurate replies, would imply that they had been many years under training. The enunciation of English sounds, by the pupils, was remarkably clear and distinct. Their exercise in reading, and especially in spelling English words, impressed us. Their proficiency in geography, arithmetic and bible history, was very gratifying. We were charmed, too, with the recitations and with the music Oh what industry and toil must have been employed to accomplish such results. No wonder the teachers seem worn out with their labors. We are highly favored in baving such a teacher as Miss Carpenter In an adjoining room were spread on a table many articles of dress for children and fancy work, made by the pupils, showing their skill in the use of the needle. While climbing the hill of science, they are cutting out garments and making them, washing and ironing, and cooking, and keeping their rooms and everything about them according to the doctrine that "Order is heaven's first law." We were more than gratified; the school is worth more then all it has cost us; and the public must not allow it to lar for want of support. There is an anomaly, however which ought not to continue. Mr. Andrews and family have as yet received nothing for their serMn. Envior.—I observe that my friend Mr. G.
Rhodes, in the last Advertiser, arraigned Mr. Castle,
Mr. H. A. P. Carter, and yourself before the public for having criticised his address on Hawalian politics. He forgot to notice me, for, in a communication addressed to the same paper, July 5th, I saked for information relating to an individual living at Hanalei, in 1848, who, on learning that Lord George

Orner Power.—We have received a sample of this Paulet had seized the entire group, is reported to have tossed his hat into the air, gave three hearty cheers for Queen Victoria, and exclaimed, "Thank God, these Islands are under British rule." Mr. Editor, I feel myself sorely slighted by the honorable gentleman, for not answering my questions, and passing me by without notice. It may have been unlutentional. If so, I pardon the omission, and trust next time he writes for the papers, he will Yours, for "the good old times," KAMAAINA.

A JAPANER FIRE.—In May last, a fire broke out in the Mikado's palace. In ten minutes the whole structure was in flames, and in less than an hour it was burned to the ground. The native troops and firemen were promptly on hand and preserved order. They could do little eise, as the buildings burned too fast to be saved, and the mosts stopped the progress of the fire. The Emperor, accompanied by his own body-guard of lancers, went to his mother's palace near by, and there the Empress and the Court joined him the next day. The palace and outbuildings were totally destroyed. It is said that a new one will be built from the plans of a foreign architect, to cost built from the plans of a foreign architect, to cost about $2,500,00. These fires come in very conven-iently for the purpose of restoration. Where the great fire swept clean a year ago, the streets have been straightened and widened, and rows of two-story brick buildings are being erceted. These are built after f-reign models, and, for two miles, the principal street of Yeddo looks like that of any large city in America or Europe. It only needs a horse-railroad track in the centre, and that will be there very shortly. Some evil-disposed persons are giving publicity to the rumor that the palace was set on fire by incendiaries, for political reasons. Such a story is totally untrue. The fire was caused by one of the Empress' ladies, who, as the night was chilly, had taken a brazier charcoal into her bed. During the night this fair young damsel, this high-born maid of honor, selected for her beauty, and her rank to serve the Emperor's bride, kicked, upset the brazier, scattered the lighted charcoal over the cotton quilts, and a new palac be the result. A slice of turnip too much-possibly fish bone in the throat-will cost $2,500,000.
